

North American Lubricants Company

Product Warranty Statement

The North American Lubricants Company warrants their products to meet or exceed all physical and performance specifications as stated in their Product Information Sheets. Product usage and application must be consistent with the Original Manufacturers' Requirements and Recommendations as well as North American Lubricants Company product specifications. North American Lubricants Company cannot be responsible for product misuse or misapplication.

*Questions concerning our product specifications or our products should be directed to:
North American Lubricants Company at (800) 430-6252
Or to our e-mail address at info@nalube.com*

